

ReBokeh

By the visually impaired community, for the visually impaired community.

The ReBokeh app is portable, customizable and designed for ease of use.

REBOKEH'S STORY

ReBokeh's founder, Rebecca Rosenberg, was diagnosed with Oculocutaneous Albinism when she was just a few months old. Growing up, she experienced first hand the lack of appropriate assistive technology for people with some functional vision. ReBokeh was created so that every person with a vision impairment could have technology available that is truly designed for them.
